1 What are some financial questions that should be asked before you get married?

The biggest mistakes couples make before they get married is that they are afraid to ask too many questions especially financial ones

So here are 4 financial questions that you should ask your future spouse:

1) What are your credit scores? You both should have a minimum of 730 credit scores before you walk down the aisle. You'll need to buy a home, furniture, cars, and etc

2) What is our 1 yr, 3yr, & 5yr financial plan to make money as a couple? Marriage is a partnership and a team. Your team should be moving forward at all times to live life to the fullest

3) How should you make financial decisions as a couple when you can't agree? No couple agrees 100% of the time. You have to prepare for disagreements.

4) What do you do when family and friends ask to borrow money? You may need to come up with a max amount that you can lend that you could afford to lose especially if it's not repaid or decide not to lend any money at all.

2 Have you ever heard of passive income producing assets?

Passive Income Producing Assets are things that you can buy that will pay you monthly income whether you're there or not

One of the secrets of the wealthy is to spend their lives buying passive income producing assets. Time is your most valuable asset in life. We all have the same 24 hours. So the key to true wealth is to figure out a way to make money while keeping as much of your time as possible free so that you can enjoy life: Travel, shop, spend time with your family, learn and grow.

This is why its so important for you to position yourself to be able to buy an asset at least every other year. You'll need good credit, or savings, or to own a business in order to pay to play.

Here are a few examples of passive income producing assets:

- Ice Vending Bldg
- Automated Car Washes
- Laundromats
- Storage Facilities
- Vending Machines
- Amazon Store/Shopify
- ATMs – Automated Teller Machines
- Multi Family Real Estate

5 Tips #7 & #8 of 12 - that he's the one to have a relationship with

Believe it or not, most bad relationships can be traced back to the fact that you chose the wrong person to enter into a relationship in the first place. So here's a few tips to help you pick better:

Tip #7: You respect the MAN that he is!

It's a great feeling to look at your husband to be with a sense of pride knowing that you respect who he is and what he stands for in life.

Tip #8: He supports your DREAMS!

Finding someone who is your biggest cheerleader is a major plus. You want your forever partner to be someone who roots for you, appreciates you and supports all of your dreams, even if that means he has to make a sacrifice or two.
